

Digital Employee Experience

Rendezvous - Delivering a great digital employee experience

Leaders need to take employee experience seriously if they want to thrive rather than survive.

Our Rendezvous solution makes the hybrid working journey as painless as possible.

Why is employee experience important?

Organizations are moving from a location-specific to a human-centric culture.

The drivers for this are:

- The need to attract workers to return to work
- An allied desire to measure workspace usage
- Optimizing the real estate footprint
- Creating an ecosystem that moves beyond booking

The impact, as noted by Gartner*, is that this has created:

“an acute need for organizations to invest in technology that supports the employee experience.”

What does Rendezvous offer?

The Rendezvous solution is the best technology investment you can make for optimizing the employee experience:

A mobile first platform – with a few taps your staff can book desks and meeting rooms to build out an action-packed, personalized and productive day in the office.

Colleague search – staff can see on a floor plan when and where their team members are in the office and book a nearby desk – planning face to face collaboration is a breeze

Wellness first – touch-free check in and out of desks with cleaning schedules built-in

A wealth of actionable utilization data – track and analyze usage and occupancy data to drive future expansion or cost savings using intuitive dashboards

A tailored approach – Rendezvous integrates with digital signage, room panel, access control and calendaring solutions to create the ecosystem that works for you and your team.
